Q&A

PART 03

Q&A

ENROLMENT

Will the member receive an ALL card after enrolling to ALL Meeting Planner?

If the client is not a member of ALL yet, they can request a physical card to be sent to them via their online account (Your loyalty account -> Receive your card by post). They will receive a unique ALL card for both ALL and ALL Meeting Planner up to 3 weeks after their first event/stay in a participating hotel. However, if the client is already a member of ALL, they will not receive a new card.

Is anyone eligible for the ALL Meeting Planner offer if they organise an event or meeting?

Professionals are defined as individuals responsible for organising meetings (meeting planners and executive personal assistants, for example), conference and event organisers, MICE agencies, professional third-party organizers, venue finders etc.

Individuals can benefit from the Meeting Planner offer for personal events, except in Europe, North Africa & Latin America. Hotels of the brands Raffles, Fairmont, Sofitel, MGallery and Emblems.

If the member joins ALL Meeting Planner during an event or meeting, can they take advantage of the membership's benefits right away?

If they join the offer and make sure to communicate their Loyalty number before the end of the event, they are eligible for the offer and can start earning points.

Can companies become members of ALL Meeting Planner?

ALL Meeting Planner does not currently have a company membership option. At the moment, it is for individual members only.

How long is a ALL Meeting Planner membership valid for?

Membership does not expire as long as you are an ALL – Accor Live Limitless member.

EARNING POINTS

What is the cost of ALL Meeting Planner for the hotel?

ALL Meeting Planner points are charged 0.02€ per point to the hotel (1% Loyalty Fee)

How can a member earn ALL Reward points with the Meeting Planner offer?

If the client is an ALL Meeting Planner member, they earn points for each professional event or meeting organised in a participating hotel. They indicate their account number upon booking, and points will be credited to their account once the invoice is fully settled.

How long are ALL Meeting Planner points valid for?

Points are valid for a 12 month period from the last points credit on member's account for an event or a stay.

What services are eligible for ALL Meeting Planner points?

The following types of service are eligible for points (minimum of 8 pax, paid by invoice)

- Accommodation linked to the event, and/or
- Meeting or conference Room rental, and/or
- Catering linked to the event, F&B

Are any costs ineligible for ALL Meeting Planner points?

- Subcontracted services (equipment rental, promotional activities etc.)
- Personnel costs (extra staff, technicians etc.)
- Incidentals paid directly by participants (minibar etc.)

Q&A

EARNING POINTS

Do professional incentive groups that use function rooms for meetings and have meals and leisure activities qualify for earning Meeting Planner points?

Yes, if the incentive group has a professional purpose and has made either a group accommodation booking (at least 8 rooms) or an event booking (at least 8 pax).

Is point-splitting permitted?

Yes. At the hotel's discretion, points can be split between a maximum of two Meeting Planner members, as long as the event contract signatory agrees.

Is there a limit to the number of points earned for a given event?

No. There is no limit to the number of points a member can earn except for Fairmont Properties outside ASPAC, where Meeting Planner points can be accrued on up to 60 000 Reward points and 60 000 Status points. Important to know: In HotelLink the cap will not be pre-blocked, hotels must manually enter the cap to avoid paying extra fees.

Can members earn points for group accommodation only?

Yes, points are given on both residential and non-residential events (for professional purposes only). For example, a client may have a block of rooms booked at the hotel, but their conference or event is being held at another venue like a convention center.

Does the Meeting Planner member have to be staying in the hotel or be present at the event to qualify to earn points?

No. The member does not have to be staying in the hotel or present at the event (and, frequently, they are not present or staying).

Who benefits from ALL and/or ALL Meeting Planner points related to an event or meeting?

- Event participants who stay at the hotel and are ALL members are authorized to earn ALL points based on their invoice.
- ALL Meeting Planner points are credited to the account of the contract signatory.
- If the contract signatory decides not to take advantage of their points, those points will be credited to the account of another Meeting Planner member involved in the organization, if this is requested upon booking.
- If two members eligible for the ALL Meeting Planner offer wish to benefit from the points, the hotel may divide those points equally between them, subject to approval by the contract signatory.

Can Meeting Planner members claim points for professional group accommodation bookings or event bookings retrospectively?

No. It is the hotel's responsibility to confirm if the client is an existing member or to enrol them into Meeting Planner at the time of booking. However, if the client joins Meeting Planner before the event has ended, they are eligible to earn Meeting Planner points.

In addition, if points were not allocated by mistake, it is the hotel's responsibility to ensure points are credited to the member.

Can professional conference organizers (PCOs) and venue finders earn Meeting Planner points?

Yes, as long as the PCO or venue finder is the person signing the event contract and they are a Meeting Planner member

Do weddings qualify for earning Meeting Planner points?

Yes, but only provided the organizer is a professional Meeting Planner / Wedding Planner

Q&A

BOOKING

Do Meeting Planner members have to make the reservation or event booking themselves to qualify to earn points?

No. The member does not have to make the booking personally. Any person authorized by the member can make a booking using the member's account number and the points will still be credited to the member's account.

How will I know a client is a Meeting Planner member?

Your M&E sales teams should ask every client making an enquiry if they are an ALL Meeting Planner member before asking any other question. A search on Hotellink will also show if the person is a Meeting Planner member or not.

Can the client get both commission and ALL Meeting Planner points?

Yes, the clients can get both the commission and the loyalty points.

REDEEMING POINTS

My client was used to gifting e-vouchers to their employees as a reward. Is a new alternative today?

ALL Meeting Planner can transfer their points to 15 ALL beneficiaries and 30 times in the year. With no limit on points transferred (see T&C).

MEMBER'S ACCOUNT

How can a member find out the balance of their ALL Meeting Planner points and view their account history?

All they need is to log onto their personal account on all.com and access the « My points history » tab.

They can then review all the points that were earned or redeemed.
